Free Traders Compose Spain's New Cabinet.

Portugal on the Aggressive Toward English Residents.

Lord Napier's Body Interred With Imposing Pomp and Ceremony—Steamers Suffer on the Seas.

Still Out.

Brussels, Jan. 21.—The miners at Charleroi have declared a renewal of the strike on Wednesday.

Spain's New Ministry.

Madrid, Jan. 21.—Senor Segasta has succeeded in forming a new cabinet. Senor Equiliar is the minister of finance; Senor Pieugerver is minister of justice; Senor Beurra, minister of commerce; General Bermudes Reina, minister of war; Admiral Bomero, minister of marine, Senor Gullon, minister of Colonies. The other departments are unchanged from the former ministry.

Stanley Tells of His Travels.

Cairo, Jan. 21.—Stanley was entertained at a banquet to-night, over which Riaz Pasha presided. A number of Europeans were present, including Mr. Joseph Chamberlain. Riaz Pasha, in proposing the toast to Stanley, took occasion to eulogize him. Stanley, replying, recounted the main points of his journey, and dwelt upon Emin's vacillation. Emin, he said, had been offered the government of a province. Stanley thanked his entertainers for the honor conferred on himself and his companions.

A Free Trade Cabinet.

Madrid, Jan. 21.—All of the new ministers are free traders. Senor Sagasta wished to secure the co-operation of the Protection-Liberals, several of whom he asked to join the cabinet, but he was unable to assent to their demands. The policy of the last ministry will be pursued.

The Musical World Will Miss Him.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—Franz Lachno, the famous German musician, composer and conductor of opera, is dead.

It was not Their Business.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—In the Reichstag to-day Herr Von Boethrcher, replying to Herr Dietz, said that the government saw no reason to prohibit the employment of negroes or coolies on the East African steamers. The debate on the socialist bill will be renewed on Wednesday or Thursday.

Miners' Troubles.

Berlin, Jan. 21. — Reichsanzinger publishes a report of the investigation of the troubles in the mining districts, which was submitted to the Emperor a week ago.

At the Mercy of the Seas.

Queenstown, Jan. 21.—The steamship Galia, from New York to this port, arrived here to-day in a much battered condition. Her captain reports that the weather during the voyage was the worst he ever experienced. A succession of heavy seas flooded the steamship's decks and forced their way into the state rooms, causing a panic among the sleeping passengers. Five of the Gallia's life boats were smashed and the davits were twisted and snapped off. The captain reports that during the passage he saw a large steamer, which he thought belonged to the Johnson line, lying at the mercy of the seas with only one mast standing.

A Political Move.

Lisbon, Jan. 21.—The supporters of the late government are incensed at the dissolution of the cortes because they are thereby likely to lose their seats. It is supposed this action was intended to enable the cabinet to deal with England unfettered by the cortes and to secure a majority during the tide of popularity.

Simply Swagger.

Lisbon, Jan. 21.—Four thousand of the leading merchants of this city paraded the principal streets to-day shouting "War to England."

The Freedom of the Press Upheld.

London, Jan. 21.—An application to commit the publisher of the Freeman's Journal and the London edition of the New York Herald for contempt in commenting on the O'Shea-Parnel case was to-day denied.

A Soldier's Funeral.

London, Jan. 21.—The funeral of the late Lord Napier of Magdala, took place to-day and was an imposing ceremony. A military procession escorted the body from the Tower to St. Paul's cathedral where the burial occurred. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge, Commander-in-Chief, and other military notables received the coffin in the grand portico of the cathedral, where the diplomatic representatives were also gathered. The body will repose near that of the Duke of Wellington. The number of troops participating in the ceremony was greater than has been seen in London for a generation; and enormous crowds of spectators packed the streets. The Queen and other royal personages sent wreaths to be placed on the coffin.

A Dying Prince's Prayer.

Rome, Jan. 21.—It is stated that just before the death of the Duke of Aosta, his sister, Princess Chlotilde, asked him to speak to King Humbert on the question of the relations of the Italian government and the Vatican, and that the dying prince complied, earnestly beseeching the King to effect a reconciliation with the church.

Cholera in Mesopotamia.

Constantinople, Jan. 21.—Cholera is raging with frightful violence in Mesopotamia. Already there have been 3,000 deaths from the disease.

Another Conflict in Crete.

Athens, Jan. 21.—Another conflict between the Christians and the Turks is reported at Sphakia, Crete, in which many were killed on both sides.

Influenza's Death Roll.

London, Jan. 21.—The registrars of vital statistics report that there were 127 deaths from influenza in London during last week.

An Unfortunate Voyage.

London, Jan. 21.—The Cunard line steamship Catalona which sailed from Boston for Liverpool January 11th, arrived at Queenstown to-day in a condition betokening her experience with storms of extraordinary severity. She reports having been struck by a hurricane, accompanied by a fierce snowfall lasting twenty hours and ending at 5 o'clock on Saturday morning. During the storm four of the boats were swept away. Her ventilators, bulwarks and deck houses were battered and stove, seven of her furnace fires were extinquished by the seas which beached over her, and her intermediate cabin was so thoroughly flooded as to be incapable of occupancy. Several seamen and two steerage passengers were injured by being knocked down and struck by flying objects; and by the bursting of a steam pipe three men were killed and a fourth badly scalded.

Against Monopoly.

London, Jan. 21.—A special meeting of the London rubber dealers and traders was held in the chamber of Commerce to-day, at which resolutions were unanimously passed, directing the preparation and submission to Lord Salisbury of a memorial praying the government to protest against the impost levied by the rubber monopoly at Para. It has been learned that 60 firms have already separately petitioned Lord Salisbury to take similar action to that asked by to-day's meeting.

No News of the Erin.

London, Jan. 21.—The National line steamship Greece from New York for London was signalled in passing Dover yesterday, and inquiries made concerning her sister ship the Erin, which sailed from New York for London on December 28th. The Greece reported having seen or heard nothing of the Erin and fears are entertained that she is lost.

Gazetted.

London, Jan. 21.—Joseph Hickson, managing director of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, has been gazetted a knight.

Becoming Serious.

Lisbon, Jan. 21.—At a meeting of the Commercial association to-day it was resolved to restrict the trade with England. In consequence of the boycott of English goods, American, French and German commercial travellers are overwhelmed with orders. At Setubec today the mob attacked the crew of an English ship and the dock laborers who were loading her, and compelled them to abandon their work.

Severely Punished.

Paris, Jan. 21.—In consequence of the scene in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday when the Boulangist and reactionist members attempted to prevent M. Joffrin from speaking, it is proposed to suspend the leaders in this scene of disorder, M. M. Laguerre, Deronede and Millevoie, for a whole session instead of for a fortnight, which was the punishment meted out to them by the president of the chamber yesterday.

EUROPEAN GOSSIP.

Raikes Will Father the Colonial Penny Post Bill.

Capt. O'Shea Threatened Should the Parnell Prosecution Continue.

Scenes at Lord Napier's Burial—Practical Test of the New Bridge Over the Forth.

London, Jan. 21.—The Funeral of Lord Napier of Magdala was marked by military pageant which in respect of extent and splendor has been equalled but once in very many years, and this on occasion of the Queen's Jubilee. From an early hour in the morning every available part of St. Paul's cathedral was crowded with persons eager to secure a place from which they could witness the ceremonies within. The famous "Whispering Gallery" of the edifice was crammed almost to suffocation, and all the attempts to eject persons whose right to be there was questionable in order to admit those better entitled to privileges were abandoned as hopeless because of the manifest impossibility of either being able to pass through the compact throng. The number of exalted personages present was remarkably large, and attested the greatness of the esteem in which the dead field marshall was held.

THE PARNELL SCANDAL.

For several days past Capt. O'Shea has been in receipt of letters of anonymous origin threatening his life in event of his continuing his prosecution of Mr. Parnell as co-respondent with Mrs. O'Shea in his suit for divorce. While of course nobody believes that either Parnell or any one of his responsible political lieutenants is cognizant of the letters it is a matter of regret that they should have been written since they cannot fail to be used to the disadvantage of the Home Rule leader when his case shall come to trial. It is stated that Captain O'Shea is much disturbed at receipt of these letters, and permitted their menacing tenor to frighten him into a state of uncertainty as to whether he had not better abandon proceedings and seek a settlement of his domestic difficulty out of court. The general opinion seems to be that the fierce captain is quaking in his boots, but it is not believed that the political managers, whose tool he is, will allow him to run away from the enemy without firing a gun.

OCEAN PENNY POSTAGE.

Postmaster-General Raikes has assumed the parentage of a colonial penny post bill which he intends to introduce in Parliament. Meanwhile he is advocating the measure on every available occasion with the result of having already gained several converts to his views.

TRIED AND NOT FOUND WANTING.

The great bridge across the Firth of Forth, which will be formally opened by the Prince of Wales in March, was tested to-day by the passage over it of a train weighing 2,600 tons. The test was pronounced in every respect a success.

BADLY DAMAGED.

The British tramp steamer Dunholme, from Liverpool for New York with a general cargo, took refuge at Moville Island to-day badly damaged by the storm which she experienced after clearing the Mersey. All the lifeboats were washed away, her bulwarks smashed, her decks and fixtures carried away and a number of men were hurt. The vessel must be repaired before proceeding.

A LABOR CANDIDATE.

A meeting of the miners was held at Bochiem, Westphalia, to-day, at which it was decided that Hon. Mr. Schroeder should be the candidate of the laboring men of that district for the Reichstag.

A Strong Following.

MANY diseases result from neglected constipation, such as sick headache, bad blood, foul humors, heartburn, dizziness and general ill health. From one to three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure constipation and all diseases caused by irregularity of the bowels

The only Cigarette worth smoking, says an expert, is a Sweet Caporal.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Prior Introduces the Oriental Steamers Question.

The Jesuits' Estates Case Again Brought Forward.

Wood, of Brockville, Unanimously Chosen Deputy Speaker—Legislators Forbidden to Accept Passes.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—Mr. Wood of Brockville, was elected deputy-speaker this afternoon. Hon. Wilfred Laurier commended the government's choice and the resolution was carried unanimously.

Mr. Mulock will move the address to the Queen, assuring her of the loyalty of Canadians to the Throne and of their desire to maintain the British connection.

Mr. Ellis says the government of New Brunswick will have a majority of eleven members.

Mr. Casgrain introduced a bill forbidding legislators to accept railway passes, to-day.

Lt.-Col. Prior will ask for all correspondence on the subject of a subsidy for a steamship line between British Columbia, Japan and Australia.

Judgment in the Haldimand case has not been delivered, owing to Judge Strong's illness.

Mr. Gordon will ask for a complete return of collections on account of Chinese immigration.

There is a tremendous amount of sickness among the members.

AMERICAN NEWS.

The Great World's Fair.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The Speaker to-day appointed the world's fair committee as follows: Chandler of Massachusetts, Hill of Illinois, Bowden of Virginia, Belden of New York, Frank of Missouri, Springer of Illinois, Hatch of Missouri, Wilson of West Virginia, and Flower of New York. The committee will get to work as soon as possible. The interests of the four cities competing for the location of the fair are supposed to be thoroughly represented on the committee. Representatives of each city were asked to name two members of the committee, and the speaker named the chairman. The west did not want the appointment of Mr. Chandler, who is supposed to be in favor of an eastern location for the fair, but there is no serious objection to the appointment now that it has been made. The proposition will be laid before the committee at its first meeting that a scheme for the organization of the fair be agreed upon, and the time for holding the fair be fixed before the question of locating the site will be taken up. The fear is expressed that if the site for the fair is chosen before the appropriation or loan has been agreed upon, the friends of the disappointed cities will put obstacles in the way of the passage of the bill establishing the fair. It is a altogether likely that the question of location will be taken up last. It is common belief, growing every day, that the fair will not be held in 1892 and a great many people are inclined to favor 1895 as a desirable date.

Untrue.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21.—Director of the Mint Leech denies the published statemnnt that 5,000,000 illegal United States silver dollars made in Mexico and sent to the United States are now in circulation. He says he is unaware that any such coin is in circulation anywhere in the United States.

The Weather is Bad for Trade.

Boston, Jan. 21.—About 75 men and a large number of girls employed in the various departments of Felt's Rubber Factory received notice yesterday that after Saturday next their services would not be needed, owing to the unfavorable weather for the rubber trade. Two felt factories, which employ over 300 persons, are now running on three-quarter time, and unless more favorable weather sets in will probably shut down.

Her Trouble Turned Her Mind.

Oswego, Kan., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Davis, arrested in Michigan on supposition that she was the famous "old Mrs. Bender," one of the noted family of murderers, and brought here for trial, has become insane. The charge has weighed heavily on her mind, and old age, accompanied by the hardships of jail life, has turned her mind. The physicians say she is hopelessly insane. Her trial, and that of her daughters, are set for the March term of court.

Murdered by Moonlighters.

Catlettsburg, Ky., Jan. 21.—R. M. Long, a Quayandotte County constable, was found murdered and his wife desperately wounded, on Sunday night by a band of ruffians who broke into the house. The neighbors found the front door had been broken down by a piece of timber. On the bed, weltering in their blood, were Long and his wife. The former's body was riddled with bullets. The latter had a ghastly wound on her face from which she was rendered unconscious. As the furniture was not disturbed and the wife could give no solution of the mystery after she regained consciousness, the friends of the murdered man believed that a gang of desperadoes, against whom he had warrants for moonshining, committed the awful deed. Others believe it is only a continuation of the Hatfield-McCoy feud as the victim was related to the former. The woman's wounds will probably prove fatal.

The Blockade Still Continues.

Portland, Ogn., Jan. 21.—The situation of the blockade is not much improved. The relief and work train that left Redding yesterday was struck by the slide twelve miles south of Sims, and three cars were buried. The snow plow, working south from Dunsmuir, is still stuck four miles south of there. They expect to be able to clear the track between Sims and Sissons in three days, under fair conditions. Nothing has been done yet between Sims and Edgewood. A trestle broke down and cannot be reached until the plow clears the track. The weather to-day is clear and calm. A work train from the South is still stuck south of Delta. Nothing has been heard lately at Sims from the relief train which met with the delay last night from the slide when on the way north from Delta. No. 15, the snow bound passenger, is about to start on its return trip to Redding. The snow plow between Dunsmuir and Sims has been abandoned for the present and the engines added to the force working between Dunsmuir and Sissons. Outside of this, the situation is practically the same as this morning. The situation between Ashland and Sacramento is desperate. There will be no trains through for several days and no regular trains for perhaps two weeks.

Buried in the Snow.

Denver, Col., Jan. 21.—Grave fears are entertained regarding the probable fate of the Howard Athenalsen Co. of variety artists, who are in the snow block on the Central Pacific. Nothing definite can be learned from them. Advices from Utah points say that the road may not be opened in three weeks. The train with the theatre troupe on board is believed to be buried under the demolished snowsheds between Reno and Truckee. It is a question whether the entombed passengers can be rescued before they perish of hunger and cold. The mercury is 30 to 40 below zero out there.

An Unfortunate Family.

Dayton, Ogn., Jan. 21.—John Sayger was taken to the insane asylum to-day, for the third time violently insane. The cause is supposed to be the accidentally shooting of his own babe at the mother's breast. His wife suicided by drowning while crazed with grief.

"They Got There Just the Same."

Lathrop, Cal., Jan. 21.—The two escorts sent by the New York World to accompany Miss Bly across the continent, and who were snow-bound in the Sierras, snow-shoed fourteen miles last night and reached Sacramento this morning. They took the train for this place and arrived in time to meet and go East with her.

Making a Great Mistake.

Apalachicola, Fla., Jan. 21.—The negroes employed in the saw mills here are on a strike for ten hours as a day's work and for higher wages. The mills mostly are shutting down. The men at the Kennedy mill remain at work despite threats from strikers. Last night one of the Kennedy men was assassinated in his house. More trouble is feared and the government has been asked to send troops here. The military are patrolling the streets to-night; otherwise all is quiet.

More Blood Than Science.

Denver, Col., Jan. 21.—D. Smith, of Denver, and C. Kessler, of Montana, fought at a railroad station about 25 miles from here to-day. The men were evenly matched and there was more blood than science about the fight. In the seventh round the friends of the combatants quarreled. The ropes were broken down and a general fight ensued, while the pugilists were rushed into the cars and locked in and finally all hands returned to this city.

Another Strike.

Fall River, Jan. 21.—The strike at the Borden Mills is unsettled and only about one half of the looms are running. The strikers to-day appointed a committee to endeavor to confer with the mill officials.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Business and Traffic Paralyzed by Snowstorms.

Bark Deliane in Distress—British Capital for Puget Sound Lumber Industries.

Snow on the Sierras.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—The snow blockade still continues. It is just a week since a train has crossed the mountains in either direction and probably will be a day or two yet before the roads are open.

Business and Traffic Paralyzed.

Nevada City, Cal., Jan. 21.—Telegraphic communication was restored today after two days' interruption. It is feared the city reservoirs will go dry. Provisions are becoming scarce and prices are rising rapidly. Many families are without firewood, there being none to be had. The schools and courts are adjourned for the week. There has been no mail connection since last Wednesday. Many buildings are still going down with the weight of snow. The estimated loss to the country by the suspension of trade and mining and damage to buildings will amount to $500,000.

British Capital Working.

Tacoma, Wn., Jan. 21.—The representative of an English syndicate, with a capital of £500,000, is in Tacoma, anxious to buy heavy lumber plants here and on other Sound points. Overtures have been made to the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co., but were declined. A San Francisco agent of the syndicate made a proposition to the Gig Harbor Lumber Co., but the latter had made a year's contract, and could not entertain it. The syndicate wishes to buy only the controlling interests of the stock, and have the present managers continue in charge. An agent of the syndicate is now in Seattle.

In Distress.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—The Dutch bark Deliane, Capt. Von Linden, bound from San Diego to Port Townsend for orders, has put into this port in distress. The Deliane sailed from San Diego on Dec. 22, and had a stormy trip, lasting 29 days, to this city. From the time of her departure from San Diego she met with a succession of north-west gales and rough weather up to January 15th. The gales were accompanied by squalls with hail. When in lat. 43.42 N., and long. 127 W., a strong gale from the south to west came on, with heavy seas, which caused the bark to strain and leak badly. The sand ballast shifted, and when it was attempted to work the pumps they were found to be useless on account of being choked up with sand. After being repaired the Deliane will continue her trip to Port Townsend.

Progressive Japan.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—Advices by the "Oceanic" say that electric lighting companies are springing up like mushrooms in Japan.

In a Wretched Plight.

Yokohama, Jan. 21.—A serious disaster has befallen the inhabitants of Urumisato, Oki Island, Japan. Out of the 86 houses on the island, 37 were destroyed by fire on Dec. 15th. The fury of the flames prevented the unfortunate people from saving their furniture or stores of provisions which had been laid in for the coming year; and they are consequently now in a wretched plight. The island is one which is little visited by vessels in the winter time and the outlook for the destitute people is very bad indeed.

John Weiler's stock of library and table lamps surpasses anything hitherto exhibited. They are beautiful.

Bold Thieves Make a Big Haul in Montreal. —Russian Engineers in Canada.

"Professionals" at Work.

Montreal, Jan. 21.—A daring robbery was perpetrated here to-night in the jewelery store of W. S. Walker. At about 6 o'clock, when the street was crowded, two men stopped at the window. One fastened the door and the other with a hammer broke the plate glass and snatched a tray of diamonds and gold rings valued at $8,000. The men then made for a sleigh and being pursued, one drove off without his companion, taking the tray with him. The other doubled and ran down the street, pursued by Rolland, the shopman, who had burst the door open. He was overtaken and arrested. He refused to give his name. The men are strangers here, and have the appearance of professional crooks.

The Government Retains Power.

St. John, N. B., Jan. 21.—The Opposition have carried all the side seats for St. John city and the county. In Sunbury county, Morrison, the Government candidate, and Perley, Independent, are elected. In Victoria, Peters, Opposition, is elected. Northumberland elected four Opposition members, Tweedie, Burchill, O'Brien and Robinson. Westmoreland elected three Opposition members, Harrington, Stevens and Powell, and one Independent, Melason. Kent county returns McInerney and Leblanc, Government supporters. Carleton county returns Atkinson, Opposition, and Ketchum, government. York county returns Hon. Mr. Blair, the premier, Wilson, Bellamy and Anderson—all government. Albert county returns Lewis, opposition, and Emerson, government. Although the elections yesterday went against the government they will retain a majority in the new House. They elected fourteen members by acclamation on nomination day, and the house will it is estimated, stand: Government, 23; Opposition, 15; Independent, 3. The Blair government is a coalition, though most of its members are liberals.

Plotting to Ruin the Bank.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—The investigation of the books of the Ontario Bank, so far as it has been made, is said to show evidence of a conspiracy to wreck that institution. No compromise will be accepted by the bank officials from those customers whose accounts show a deficit balance, and the whole matter will be ventilated in the courts. The checks used to carry out the wrecking scheme were stolen, it is alleged, from the Bank vaults and destroyed after being cashed. W. P. Godfin, the assistant accountant, has been suspended pending the examination of the bank's books. He has been placed under $8,000 bonds. Brown, the absconding ledger clerk, is in Buffalo. He turned over to his lawyers the deeds of property, valued at $60,000, which was purchased with money that properly belonged to the bank.

THE CONTEMPTIBLE OPPOSITION.

A few days ago we stated that the power of employing and discharging teachers is in the hands of the Trustees. The Times does not deny this because it knows it to be true. It says that the Government has power to cancel certificates, which is a very different thing indeed, and then with colossal impudence asks, "Why does it (THE COLONIST) retail out a deliberate falsehood?" What we said is the simple truth, known to all who have had anything to do with the working of the school law. The Trustees have the power both to engage and discharge the teachers, and the Government cannot do either the one or the other. This power the trustees in all parts of the country are continually exercising without a thought as to the wishes or opinions of the Minister of Education or the officials of the Department. This the Times well knows, and when it accused us of "retailing out" a falsehood, it knows that it was making an impudently false accusation. A trick like this is utterly contemptible. It is one of the mean dodges of bar-room controversalists when they find themselves hard pressed. The newspaper that resorts to it forfeits its claim to the respect of honest and intelligent men. When we said that the School Trustees in British Columbia have the power to engage and dismiss teachers we said what was undeniably true, and when the Times, alluding to the assertion, declared it to be a falsehood, it stated not only what was untrue, but what it knew to be untrue. Everyone knows what is the proper designation for the man or the journal which commits that offence.

The Times says that the Government has power to cancel the certificate of the teacher which it untruthfully states is practically the same thing as discharging the teacher. It is not practically the same thing but a very different thing indeed. Teachers are frequently discharged but they leave their positions without reproach. The teacher who is discharged is free to take another school as soon as he can find trustees willing to employ him. He retains his certificate and is consequently as eligible for engagement as ever he was. But teachers' certificates to their credit be it said, are very seldom cancelled. The teacher whose license is cancelled is drummed out of the profession. He is no longer a teacher under the law. He is not eligible for engagement. What is to be thought of the writer who in order to deceive his readers, and to make what he considers a point, is so reckless and so dishonest as to say that to discharge a teacher and to cancel his certificate is "practically the same thing?"

The Government has the power to cancel the teacher's certificate, and it is right, both for the efficiency of the system of public education and for the sake of the teachers themselves as a body, that it should have that power and should exercise it resolutely and impartially when occasion requires. It sometimes happens that a bad man or a man of unsound mind obtains a certificate to teach. Bad men often possess great intellectual ability, and it is quite possible for a man who is deranged to be able to pass an examination to entitle him to a certificate of the highest grade. When these men enter upon the business of teaching they soon show that they are unfit to be entrusted with the work of guiding and developing the minds of children. One may be openly and grossly immoral and the other may be violent in both his acts and his language. Would it be right for the Government to permit this immoral man and this lunatic to remain among the public teachers of the province? No one is so stupid or so unprincipled as to say that the Government is justified in allowing men and women whom they know to be bad or of unsound mind to remain among those who are licensed to teach the children of the people. The Minister of Education would be unfaithful to his trust if he permitted any such morally or intellectually disqualified person to hold his or her certificate a single day longer than he could help after he was once convinced of his guilt or his unsoundness of mind. The Times seems to think that when once a man gets a teacher's certificate he should be allowed to keep it as long as he lived, no matter how bad a life he led, or how incapable in other respects he might prove to be. It seems to consider it a crime in the Government to deprive a teacher of his certificate under any conceivable circumstance. If it does not believe this it has been most unfortunate in the way in which it expresses itself. Every person of common sense sees that the Government should have the power of depriving teachers who have proved themselves unworthy, of their certificates. But the Government may abuse that power. It certainly may, as it may abuse any other power it possesses, but it is silly in the extreme to say that men shall not be entrusted with power because it is possible for them to make a bad use of that power. Teachers have the power of punishing children; teachers often abuse that power, and very few indeed use it wisely; but must all teachers be deprived of the most effective means of maintaining discipline because some teachers have used it unjustly and without discretion?

If our contemporary could show that the power of cancelling teachers certificates has been improperly used by the Minister of Education we might examine the instance, or instances, cited, and be able to judge whether there were grounds for the accusation or not. But that is precisely what it does not do. It scolds and declaims and predicts, but it gives facts a very wide berth indeed. It did tell us that "a Minister of Education" once deprived a lady of the means of living, but it has never yet found it convenient to give the name of that minister or that lady, although challenged time and again to do so.

It is quite possible that the knowledge that a teacher's license can be cancelled for cause shown, has a restraining effect on some teachers who very badly need such restraint, but our contemporary has not attempted to show that any teacher who lives a good life, and does his or her duty at all well, is under the slightest danger of having his or her certificate cancelled. The law is, as it ought to be, a terror to evildoers, but those who do well hardly know of its existence. The power has never been used to "bully" any teacher, and our contemporary is dishonest, as usual, when it tries to convey the impression that the Minister of Education was not invested with it before last winter. The Government always possessed the power to cancel teachers certificates. The Public Schools Act would indeed be defective if the Government did not possess the power of weeding out of the teaching profession members who had proved themselves a reproach to it. But long as the present Government has possessed the power, the Times has not ventured to show that it, in one single instance, ever made a political use of it. When will the Times begin to deal with facts in this matter of education?

RAILROADS WANTED.

Those engaged in the mining industry in many parts of this province find themselves hampered for want of railway accommodation. A rich lead among the hills far away from any railroad is comparatively valueless. Everything has to be taken to the mine on the backs of men and horses. To get the proper machinery to develope the vein is simply an impossibility. In such situations only the rudest appliances can be used and the returns are consequently miserably inadequate. No matter how rich the country is only a few men can get there and they work at a very great disadvantage. What is wanted for such districts is better means of transport. Before they can be made to yield their riches a railroad is a necessity. The railroad will bring in men and material and will cause what is now nothing better than a barren desolate mountain side or an unproductive canyon to become the seat of a busy and prosperous population, which will every day add to the wealth of the province and send large contributions to its treasury. The transformations which railroads can make in a country of this kind are truly marvellous. The growth of the new communities is not slow and gradual. They, as it were, spring up in a day. The rough mining camp, under favorable conditions, developes into a large town possessing all the conveniences and luxuries of modern civilization with a rapidity which is truly astonishing. Colorado, with its fine cities and its large population, is the growth of a single generation.

It is said that there are parts of British Columbia as rich in the precious metals as any district in Colorado. This may not be true, but no one yet knows for certain. British Columbia has not had its opportunity, many say. Give it a chance. This, in effect, is what the men who the other day sent a petition to the Lieut.-Governor from the Kootenay district assert. Men living in a mining district feel every day the want of better communication with the outer world. They see a chance of making a great deal of money, and of attracting a large population to their district. All that is needed to enable them to get out of the rocks the riches which they are convinced they contain, are railroads. It is no wonder, then, that they are earnest and urgent. They desire the Government to give all those who show that they are in earnest in supplying the district with the railway accommodation that it needs, every facility in its power. The Government will no doubt make the necessary allowance for the enthusiasm of the petitioners, and will extend to the projected roads a l the encouragement which can reasonably be expected. The Government should be moderate even in the encouragement which it gives to railroads. It will not do for it to incur obligations which will hamper it in the future and deprive it of great part of its influence. The railway projectors should depend as little as possible on Government aid. Private enterprise and individual energy should do their part to develope the mineral wealth of the country. If the district is as rich as the petitioners hope and believe the railroads will soon pay well. Little more should be expected from Government than leave to build the road and a moderate grant of land. The Government of the province is not rich. Like the country, its sources of wealth are many and great, but the larger part of them are not just now available. So that it is impossible for it to do much in the way of money subsidies towards the construction of the railways that are needed. But what it can do without crippling itself it will, we are satisfied, do readily and cheerfully.

There are other parts of the province besides Kootenay which are suffering for want of railway accommodation. The Government in granting a charter and a subsidy to the Canadian Western did what was necessary to put that enterprise upon a sound footing. That road will, we hope, before very long become an accomplished fact. It is evident that Cariboo is soon to get a fresh start. New capital is going into the country, and the enterprise which will open up new mines in that district will not allow itself to be incommoded and fettered by the want of necessary railroad accommodation.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

THE Washington correspondent of the New York Herald gives some particulars respecting the draft of the new Extradition Treaty. According to him, quite a number of offences will be extraditable under the new treaty which were not extraditable under the old. The following offences are added to the list: Attempt or conspiracy to murder, manslaughter, counterfeiting or altering money and uttering counterfeit or altered money, burglary, embezzlement or larceny of any sum or article of the value of $50 and upward, rape or indecent assault upon females, malicious injury to property, whereby the life of any person is endangered; criminal scuttling or destroying vessels on the high seas or on the great lakes of North America, or attempting to conspire to do so; assault on board a vessel on the high seas or on the great lakes of North America with intent to destroy life or do grievous bodily harm." From this it will be seen that when the treaty goes into operation a large number of offenders who are now safe as soon as they cross the border may find that they have jumped out of the frying pan into the fire. This is as it ought to be. This is the kind of reciprocity that all law-respecting citizens believe in no matter to what party they belong.

British Columbia is not the only country that is asking for free mining machinery. A powerful company in Ontario is making the same request. There are extensive deposits of copper in Sudbury, north of Lake Superior. Nickel is also found there. The machinery required to reduce these ores is not manufactured in Canada. It must be imported from abroad. The mine owners, therefore, who are men of great influence in the Dominion, are applying to have the duty taken off mining machinery. It is likely that they will not have to ask in vain, particularly when their request is so reasonable. If Sudbury mine owners get their machinery in duty free, then there will be some hope for British Columbia mining men. It is greatly to be hoped that this heavy burden will be taken off the mining industry in all parts of the Dominion.

Scratched 28 Years

Body covered with scales. Itching terrible. Suffering endless. No relief. Doctors and medicines fail. Speedily cured by Cuticura at a cost of $5.

Cured by Cuticura

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago it would have saved me $200.00 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I took .... and .... Sarsaparillas, over one year and a half, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors, and no cure. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them were three boxes of CUTICURA, and three bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of psoriasis (picture number two, "How to Cure Skin Diseases), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

ALL ABOUT PEANUTS.

How They Are Raised and Prepared For the Market.

Most of the Virginia and North Carolina peanut crop, which is about two-thirds of the whole crop of the country, is marketed in Norfolk and Petersburg, Va.; the rest, with the whole crop of Tennessee, is carried to St. Louis or Cincinnati. In each of these cities are factories where the nuts as they are delivered by the farmers are bought. The nuts as they appear at this stage, with earth and their stems still clinging to them, are hardly to be recognized as the bright nuts we afterward see on the corner stand.

To polish them, and to remove the earth and stems, the nuts are scoured in large iron cylinders, from which they pass through blast fans, in which a strong current of air separates the fully developed nuts having sound kernels from those imperfectly filled, and empty pods. The sound nuts fall through the fan upon picking tables, where those which are discolored are taken out, and the bright ones are passed into sacks which will each hold about 100 pounds of nuts. Each sack is marked with the brand which indicates the grade of its contents.

The dark and the partially filled nuts are shelled, and the kernels are used by confectioners in making peanut candy. The work of picking over and separating the nuts is performed by little girls, about 20 of whom are employed at every table.

Three varieties of peanuts are grown in this country, the white, the red and the Spanish. The white, which is the most important variety, has a nut with two kernels, with pink skins; its vine spreads along the ground, in this respect unlike that of the red variety, which grows more upright and in a bunch.

The pod of the red nut holds three, and sometimes four kernels, and has a deep red skin.

The Spanish is a much smaller nut, with a lighter skin and milder flavor than either of the others possess. The entire crop is shelled, and used especially in that rich confection known as nougat.

In 1880 the consumption of peanuts in the United States was less than 2,000,000 bushels. In 1887 the amount had increased to four and a third million bushels all of which was eaten in the United States and Canada. The demand for peanuts has trebled in the past few years, and the crop has never been sufficient to supply the demand.

The peanut is a more useful product than people in general think it to be. The nuts contain from 42 to 50 per cent. of nearly colorless, bland, fixed oil, which resembles olive oil, and is used for similar purposes. This oil is principally employed in the manufacture of the finer grades of soap.

In 1883 Virginia began to manufacture peanut flour, which makes a peculiarly palatable biscuit, and North Carolina has long made pastry of pounded peanuts. It is also eaten for dessert, and is roasted as a substitute for coffee.

The peanut is very nutritive. The negroes use it in very many places in making porridge, custard, and prepare from it a beverage. The vine forms a fodder as good as clover hay, and hogs fatten on what they find on the fields after the crop has been gathered.—Youth's Companion.

THE SAVING HABIT.

Some Hints That May Prove Useful to Many Struggling Young Men.

The following hints on the forming of a habit of saving will prove interesting to many Albany spendthrifts. The number of people who have not at some time in their lives enjoyed an income in excess of their immediate wants is so inconsiderable that it is not worth while to make a computation. The mistake with many is that they will not look out for the future. One of the most difficult of undertakings is that of teaching some people to live within the income, to save whenever possible. Good fortune or ability may secure employment for a young man that will bring him in a sum much larger than his needs require. His spirits are buoyant. He sees no clouds in the future's skies. He tells himself that having begun so well he must do better as the years go on. So he spends his money for expensive dress and in other channels. The habit of extravagance, instead of the habit of saving, is contracted. Some of the young man's money is thrown away in the gratification of tastes that lower his value to his employer. In times, either through business depression or his own inattention, he is deprived of employment. If he be a fellow of grit and is capable of self-examination, he sits in judgment upon himself and condemns his own foolishness. If he be a weak brother he speedily becomes useless to the world. His habits of extravagance may lead him into forbidden paths.

The habit of saving taught by parents has been the means of saving many a young man. Thrift, without meanness, is honorable and honored all the world over. The young man who saves is sure to become a valuable citizen. He is certain to be a good father and husband. When the rainy day comes and age puts its hand upon him he need have no fear. The young man who prefers a good time is working against himself. If he has a good time at the beginning he is likely to have a hard time at the end. Youth is strong, and is capable of self denial. Age is weak, and after it has fought the battle of life, it ought not to be compelled to practice all the arts of saving.—Kingston (N. Y.) Leader.

Some people get drunk in the hope of having their natural idiocy charged up to the account of whiskey.

YESTERDAY'S NEWS.

Early in the Morning.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 20. — The House convened on Saturday morning before sunrise, and under the call of the House the absentees, in bed and at breakfast, were summoned to the capitol by the sergeant-at-arms. The farmers thought they had the best of the lawyers at that unusual hour, but the lawyers made an unusual effort and got there on time. The business of the forenoon was the consideration of the revenue bill upon the matter of licensing lawyers. Two reports were brought in, the minority favoring the license. The lawyers favored the minority report. It was adopted, and a bill for the license was recommended to pass.

To Board for the Winter.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 20.—Owing to the deep snow and the scarcity of food, cattlemen on the Uintiah range are gathering all their cattle for the purpose of shipping them into Kansas and Nebraska to feed. It is estimated that over 50,000 will be shipped into these states within the next two months.

Is Kirkham Scanlan the Man?

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—W. J. Hynes, when shown the dispatch at 2 o'clock this morning stating that one of the Cronin prosecutors had gone insane, said: Judging from my action in getting up at this time of day to talk to reporters, I should say that I am the man. The case, however, is probably that of some poor fellow who has become insane and imagines that he was attorney in the Cronin case. The only man now out of town who was associated with the prosecution is Kirkham Scanlan, and he went to Washington."

A Fatal Quarrel.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20.—John Kinney, a packing house employe, quarrelled with Thomas Carey in the latter's saloon last night. Carey followed Kinney home and renewed the quarrel. During the fight that ensued Kinney stabbed Carey in the hip, and received a bullet in the heart that killed him instantly.

A Harvest of Ice.

SOUTH GARDINER, Me., Jan. 20.—The ice men have now been cutting ice on the Kennebeck for a week and are getting a product of superior quality. The river is frozen over with as solid a block of ice as was ever harvested, measuring from eight to twelve inches thickness.

St. Paul Makes Blizzard's Acquaintance.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 20.—A storm set in at 9 o'clock last night, accompanied by heavy wind, and at midnight it had increased to such an extent as to be akin to a blizzard. Already nearly five inches of snow have fallen on the level, and the outlook is for an interruption of railroad travel. As for the country roads, they were drifted before the the storm now in progress set in, and the fall of snow last night will block them effectually. Up to midnight there was no interruption to telegraphic communication with all parts of the Northwest, but the snow is so heavy, particularly on the Dakota prairies, that the wires will probably go down.

LISBON, Jan. 20.—The editors of several leading journals in Lisbon have called a meeting for the purpose of promoting a subscription for the national defence.

La Grippe Claims Another Victim.

On Monday night Staff Sergeant C. H. Hewlett, one of the best known and most popular non-commissioned officer of "C" Battery, died at his home on Beechy street, in this city, of pneumonia, following a severe attack of the prevalent malady, la grippe. The deceased was 41 years of age, and leaves a wife and four children. He was a prominent member of the Orange order, and the funeral will be held under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Lodge.

It's Fun for the Chinamen.

The festivities in Chinatown this week have had one unforeseen and far from pleasant effect upon the life and habits of some of the best families. While the New Year demonstration is in full blast, many of the Chinese house servants have refused to work and a number of well-to-do citizens with their families now dine at the restaurants and hotels. They will be heartily glad when the New Year is over, the last fire-cracker has exploded and they can once more return to their own dining rooms.

Again Removed.

Fisher, the unfortunate man who has been of unsound mind for some time past and who has constantly been removed from one place to another, was taken back to the provincial jail yesterday, where he will have to be cared for for the present, as the asylum at New Westminster is now overcrowded. Since Fisher was first found on the street he has been moving between the hospital, city lockup and provincial jail almost all of his time. It seems a pity that such continual change should be necessary as most probably if he was kept quiet he might recover.

Vale, Clem Austin.

In the city police court yesterday Clem Austin, the boastful pugilist who has periodically made Victoria his home for the last year or so, only leaving when it became necessary for him to do so to avoid arrest, was charged with being a frequenter of a house of ill-fame. He was not present to answer to the charge, and a sentence of one month's imprisonment was accordingly entered against him. Austin is a so-called sport who does all he can to bring legitimate athletics into disrepute. He is too lazy to work, and too much of a coward to be a successful criminal; and Victoria has no use for him or any other of his class.

A Portable Storage Battery.

On Monday evening the trimmer, whose duty it is to look after the private arc lights in the city, received his third shock by touching a live wire while working about the power house. One of his fingers was badly burned, but fortunately he met with no serious injury. Said he to a COLONIST man yesterday: "That's the third shock I've got since I started in. The first knocked me six feet in the air. Then the next sent me flying about three feet. This last did'nt move me. I'm getting hardened, and if I don't get killed I'll soon be a regular storage battery."

Another Missing Seattleite.

Robert Curtin, a clerk formerly in the employ of Kellcher & Co., of Seattle, has been missing from that city for several days, and left without assigning any cause for going away. His former employers are reticent concerning his connection with them, but admit that Curtin had overdrawn his account at the store. Shortly before his disappearance he became engaged to a young lady who was also a clerk in Kellcher & Co.'s store. His fiancee is greatly troubled over his disappearance, and says she can assign no motive for his unceremonious act, although rumor has it she threatened to have him arrested for seduction unless he married her at once. It is believed that Curtin is in Victoria, where he has several friends.

That Election Assault Case.

On the opening of the police court yesterday the magistrate announced that after considering the evidence in the case of Mr. J. Montague Leet, charged with assault by Dr. Morrison, he had decided to impose a fine of $5.

The defendant protested strongly. He had, he said, intended to take the stand himself when the evidence was being heard, but was too unwell. He was now prepared to testify in his own behalf and he hoped that his Honor would receive his evidence.

His Honor—"Why prolong the agony? The fine imposed is the very lightest provided by law."

Mr. Leet—"Yes it is an agony. It is with the deepest sense of humiliation that I appear in this court at all; and I appear to vindicate my character,—to disprove an unfounded charge."

His Honor—"No man shall leave this court with the idea that he has not got justice. The defendant can take the box and give his evidence."

Mr. Eberts objected, as the case had been closed. The objection was not, however, sustained by the court. Counsel for the prosecution then asked for a remand until Friday, so that Dr. Morrison might be present, and the adjournment was granted.

Victoria's Street Arabs.

Victoria is unfortunately possessed of some half-a-dozen little street Arabs; homeless, incorrigible, deep in the mysteries of juvenile depravity, and frequent visitors to the police court dock. Riley Robins is one of the best known of them. The only time he has any settled home is when he is serving a term in jail for some clearly proved offence; and, as Sergt. Walker remarked in the police court yesterday, "when he's out of jail he's always into some mischief. He never works, and he sleeps in stables or outhouses, anywhere. His 'living' he picks up where he can."

The offence with which Riley was charged yesterday was stealing four ducks, the property of Joshua Davies. He pleaded guilty, saying, "Yes, your honor, I helped to steal them."

"How much did you 'help'?" queried his honor.

"I took two and Charley Whittey took the rest."

"Whittey? Isn't that the boy that was up yesterday?" asked his honor.

The police assured him that it was, and for a moment he gave himself up to the consideration of the problem of what to do with the culprit, young in years but already a veteran in petty crime, for whom the reformatory is the only proper place. He finally decided to remand the case in order that the police might if possible induce the captain of some of the sealers to take the poor boy to sea with them, and thus keep him out of crime for a time at least.

To Open the House.

A telegram was received from Ottawa yesterday stating that the Governor-General-in-Council had been pleased to appoint His Lordship Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J., to open the provincial house to-morrow, in the place of His Honor, the Lieut.-Governor.

A Real Good Time.

Last evening the members of Perseverance Lodge, No. 1, I.O.G.T., were entertained by the sisters, who provided an excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc. Encores were decidedly numerous. Refreshments for the inner man were provided in abundance and a very pleasant evening was passed.

This Afternoon.

At The Victoria this afternoon the J. C. Duff Comic Opera Co. will repeat their splendid piece de resistance, "The Queen's Mate," which scored so good a success last night. The curtain will go up at two o'clock sharp, and the prices of admission have been fixed at $1 for adults, 50 cents for children; nothing extra for reserving.

Freight and Trade Notes.

A quantity of condensed milk, 270 sacks bran and a lot of general merchandise was shipped to Vancouver by the Islander this morning.

The Islander last night brought one carload of whiskey, one of bacon, two of mixed merchandise, and sixty head of cattle.

One carload of crackers and one carload of miscellaneous merchandise comprised the Olympian's cargo last evening.

Vancouver Island Building Society.

The annual report of the above society has just been issued by the secretary. According to this statement there would appear to be some very strong influence acting against the welfare of the society, which is shown in the fact that during the past year there have been fifty-two withdrawals, and a further number of thirteen shares are under notice of withdrawal. When it is stated that this means a profit of over $400 to the society (and a consequent loss to those withdrawing) it will be readily seen that a most regrettable lack of interest appears to be taken in the concern by some members. The annual meeting will be held to-night in Harmony Hall, View street.

Death from Natural Causes.

An inquest into the cause of death of the late Wm. Heathorn was held at the family residence, Rock Bay, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Dr. Wm. Jackson, coroner, presiding, and the jury being composed of Messrs. H. Mansell (foreman), Wm. Craft, R. Jamieson, J. Holland, E. E. Johnson and F. Page. The principal evidence taken was that of Dr. J. D. Helmcken, who was summoned when the deceased was dying but who arrived too late to be of any service, and who also made the post mortem examination on Monday. The liver and one of the large intestines, he said, were the only parts of the body found in other than a healthy condition. He could find no derangement of any organ sufficient to cause death, which, he was of the opinion, was caused by paralysis, incident to the excessive pain caused by the inflamed intestine. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

The Jubilee Jinglers.

From the time the Jubilee singers sang their first chorus last evening in the lecture hall of the new St. Andrew's church until "Good Night, Gentlefolks," was given there was one continuous round of applause. The singers are all artists in their different lines. Miss Hawkins has a beautiful clear voice, and Mr. Walley, the bass, has to be heard to be appreciated.

Among the selections given were, "Ding Dong Bells," by Miss Chinn; "My Old Kentucky Home," by Miss Hawkins; "Travelling Back to Dixie," by Mr. Wailey; and "Dese Bones Shall Rise Again," and "There's a Jubilee," by the company. The male quartette gave imitations of the Victoria brass band, Barnum's steam calliope and a Chinese quartette in a way that secured them encore after encore. The company will appear again to-night with an entirely new programme, which will secure for them no doubt a crowded house.

A Splendid Number.

The Dominion Illustrated for January 11 contains the portraits of some of our noted men—Sir Joseph Hickson having the place of honor, while the Hon. P. J. O. Chauveau, once a prominent figure in Canadian public life, and Dr. J. G. Bourinot, the new C. M. G., form an interesting pair. The other features of the number will please the lover of scenery, the antiquarian, the enthusiast for industrial progress, and the Canadian patriot, to whatever of these classes he may belong. There is a fine series of New Brunswick views—Grand Falls on the St. John river—a valuable memento of Old Canada—the house in which Vaudreuil signed the capitulation of Montreal, an Indian scene on Rainy River, and a fine art picture, "Joan of Arc," by Chataillon. Altogether, it is an excellent number, both in illustrations and letterpress. Price of subscription, $4 a year. Address, Mr. G. E. Desbarats, managing director Dominion Illustrated Publishing Company, 73 James street, Montreal.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Money closed at 3 per cent., the lowest rate: the highest was 5 per cent. Exchange closed dull; posted rates, $4.82½ to $4.87; actual rates, $4.82 to $4.82½ for 60 days, and $4.86 to $4.86½ for demand drafts, Government closed steady; Currency, Sixes, 116 bid; Fours, coupons, 126 bid; Four-and-half Coupons, 104½ bid. The Stock Market this morning was dull and generally lower. The early prices in London were all firm, ⅛ to ½ lower than the closing figures here on Saturday, and this market responded with similar declines at the opening. The Coal stocks were dull and depressed throughout the forenoon on a continued unfavorable outlook so far as weather is concerned for the trade. Jersey Central was down 2 points to 120 this morning. Grangers, as a group, were weak on the discussion of the Union Pacific and North Western Alliance, and the General Committee, as it may cause trouble. But Union Pacific and North-Western were both higher thoughout the forenoon, while St. Paul, Rock Island & Burlington were ½, ¼ lower. Missouri Pacific was at one time one per cent. higher. After mid-day the market was extremely dull. At times the trading came almost to a standstill, but prices were firmer and generally higher, due chiefly to the undecided attitude of the shorts, who seem to be apprehensive of a squeeze. Wheeling and Lake Erie Preferred were exceptionally active and advanced ¾ to 70. The market closed dull but very strong at about the best prices in most cases. In the event Jersey Central recovered most of the early decline. The advance for the day ranged from ⅛ to 1½, and the sales for the day amounted to 155,645 shares.

"THE QUEEN'S MATE."

Another Big Success Scored by the Duff Opera Co.

"Paola," as presented by the Duff Opera Company on Monday night, received a hearty welcome and it deserved it. "The Queen's Mate," given last evening, received an ovation, and it as richly was merited. In interesting plot, in wealth of catchy, bright and rippling melody, and in brilliant and artistic costuming nothing like "The Queen's Mate" has ever been seen in Victoria before.

The house was crowded to the dome, and every artist on the stage seemed to feel the stimulating influence of playing to a large and sympathetic audience and do the fullest justice to his or her part.

"Digby Bell" was in inimitable humor and capital voice, his rendition of "The Potato and the Acorn" being superlatively excellent. Mark Smith fully sustained the role of Pedrillo, foster brother of Inigo (Digby Bell); while Miss Minnie De Rea and Miss Laura Joyce Bell were all that could be asked for as Anita and Inez, the Queen sisters. Very good and effective work was done in all the minor parts; the chorus was away above par, and the grand march in the last act proved to be the best piece of spectacular ever seen on the stage of The Victoria.

Victoria lovers of opera agree thoroughly on one point, and that is that the music of the "Queen's Mate" far surpasses that of Paola in quality throughout, and compares most favorably with that of the "Mikado" or "Erminie." Many who listened with pleasure to the treat last night will attend the matinee this afternoon to again enjoy the feast of wit and music.

To-night "A Trip to Africa," another delightful piece, will hold the boards, and the company should close their engagement with a packed house.

Medium—These are the days of mediums. That is what our store is—medium in location, medium in quantity, speaking generally, and best of all, medium in price. People of Victoria, furniture was never cheaper than it is to-day, and it is this medium store you have to thank. If you don't believe it, just look at some of their advertisements. They have to come down 10 per cent. on their own acknowledgment to get where we stand. We are, therefore, also the medium who have scattered to the winds these old time prices, and the more you patronize us the better we get both in quality and price. AN OLD TRICK.

Coining United States Cartwheels From Mexican Silver Dollars.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Evening Sun of to-day says that Wall street financiers claim that they have discovered that a band of Mexicans calling themselves "a private bank," have been coining United States silver dollars, and issuing them to the Mexicans, who give them in return for goods purchased on this side. The profit in this scheme can be readily seen when it is known that the United States dollars of the present only contain 72 cents worth of precious metal. The alleged bank take 72 cents worth of bullion and with a stamp the exact counterpart of those used at the United States mints, to stamp out the dollars. There is nothing counterfeit about the dollar, and it is therefore difficult to detect it. The gentlemen who have made the discovery are of the opinion that this wholesale coining of unauthorized silver dollars has been going on for the past two years and assert that at least 5,000,000 illegal dollars have been foisted upon the citizens of the United States by the keen-witted Mexicans.

THE MISSING DOG.

TO THE EDITOR: Re. the non-appearance of my dog "Lion" in the performance of Hans the Boatman, permit me, in justice to myself and for the satisfaction of those who were disappointed thereat, to explain. The dog was stolen at Seattle on Sunday last, and I was compelled to leave that place without him. On my arrival in Victoria I received two telegrams from friends there that he had been found, and asking me what to do with him. I immediately wired "Put him in cage on wharf and ship by Olympian on Tuesday morning." Imagine my disappointment when the steamer arrived to find that the dog had not been sent. I returned to Seattle by the Olympian the next day and found that my friends there had not received the instructions I sent, in fact, the telegram I sent from Victoria Monday at 7:30 p. m., and prepaid, has not been delivered to this day. I therefore trust your theatre goers will place the blame where it belongs—the telegraph company, and not
